Hello, I am a versatile video editor and director with over a decade of expertise in motion design, color grading, and cinematography.

A seasoned professional, I've contributed my skills to diverse freelance projects alongside a solid 7-year tenure at Amazon and a year-long contract with T-Mobile in the vibrant Seattle area. I excel in both collaborative team environments and independent problem-solving, always aiming to elevate projects and captivate audiences through innovative approaches. I'm eager to continue pushing boundaries, learning, and contributing to exciting ventures in the future. I anticipate the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead with enthusiasm!
